

34 sentences. 34 picture pairs.

Ready for your review

Approve the exact sentence and its two pictures for each of the 34 chapter entries. Entry numbers stay the same in the PDF, gallery and proposal file.

31 sentences use only previously introduced curriculum words. Three early entries each have one listening exception: 01 jump, 03 the, 04 look. The child can tap that word to hear it. Pip is replaced by the chosen dragon name.

The early curriculum teaches nouns before grammar words such as the and is. Some short lines recap a familiar moment instead of naming the new location. Repeated jumping and book scenes are intentional. The existing spoken introductions are retained.

All pictures reuse approved assets. Atlas panels and the two book details are displayed with exact crops; no artwork is generated or redrawn. No proposed pair is currently marked as requiring new art. Picture fit still needs your review.

Intended behavior after approval

The prompt is: Which picture shows what you read? The child sees no matching/other labels; picture positions are shuffled and saved. A wrong choice shows the matching picture and continues. No XP, health cost or mastery evidence is awarded. First choice and listening help are recorded for Parents.

A single two-picture choice has a 50% chance level. It is a gentle meaning check, not proof of independent reading. The sentence is not read aloud automatically.

Reply: Approve all 34, or list entry numbers and changes.

Proposal only. No gameplay change is implemented or deployed.

Source main: 4ed8a7b. Exact prior chapter targets only; no assumed sight words, inflections or next-chapter previews. The original workbook and app contain the same 200 targets. Current sentences: 100/158 available word occurrences; proposal: 158/161 (98.1%). Counts include the exempt dragon name. Full sources and crops are in docs/story-review/proposal.json.
